

Do not weaken NJ's law. I have NEVER bought anything from an unsolicited call and find them an obtrusive waste of time. Free speech does not give anyone the right to come into my home and try to sell something. This law does to phone calls what anti-spam software does for e-mail. Why a telemarketer would want to call someone who doesn't want to hear from them is beyond me. It just creates hostility towards their brand.